Structure, Governance and Management

The Scottish Churches' China Group (SCCG) is an SCIO (Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation) governed by its Constitution. This SCIO was incorporated on 19 September 2012 as a result of a 'Change to SCIO' application by SC033740 Scottish Churches' China Group, which was an unincorporated association registered as a charity since 2 October 2002.

The SCCG is an ecumenical group incorporating representatives of Christian churches and fellowships in Scotland. We work closely with others including the Amity Foundation in China and the China Forum of Churches Together in Britain and Ireland (CTBI).

The denominational members of the Scottish Churches' China Group are:

- Chinese Fellowship
- Church of Scotland
- Roman Catholic Church
- Scottish Episcopal Church
- Society of Friends (Quakers)
- United Free Church of Scotland
- United Reform Church

Trustees direct the work of the SCCG and are known as the Management Committee. Members of the SCCG have voting rights and meet in Plenary sessions twice a year. Plenary meetings are open to anyone who is interested in our work or would like to learn more about China.

Charitable Purposes

The purposes of the charity are the advancement of education, to promote good health and promote the benefit in the interest of social welfare of those living in China; to advance the education of the general public, membership of SCCG, churches and secular institutions about the cultural, social, political and religious aspects of China; and to promote, advance, encourage and support the Christian witness in China.

Activities, Achievements and Performance

40th Anniversary

In 2023, the SCCG reached a milestone: we celebrated 40 years of working with our Chinese partners. We're proud to know that we are part of a continuing link between Scotland and China, dating back to the first medical missionaries to visit North East China in the late 1800s. Recent requests from partners in Shenyang and Nanjing - for training resources for inclusive education projects, elderly care and dementia support, care for children with life-limiting illness, palliative and spiritual care, and mental health support for staff - show that there is still a great need.

Ongoing Support for Integrated Kindergarten Project in Nanjing

Since September 2022, specialist teachers with skills in inclusion and integration from the Amity Foundation's Children's Development Centre in Nanjing, and mainstream teachers from a local kindergarten, have been working together to provide support and services for children with additional educational needs. Ma Xiaobo is the lead Amity staff member and has developed an integrated teaching model for both groups of children in the class. All this continues to be done with expert input from Jasmine Miller, in sessions funded by the SCCG.

Ms Ma values her online sessions with Jasmine Miller both as she prepared to begin her MSc and as she now works through the modules. The conversations enable Ma Xiaobo to explore and question techniques and research which aren't fully recognised or valued within a Chinese context. The Chinese curriculum is not student-focused, rather focuses on how the student can fit into an educational environment that emphasises results and achievements.

For Ms Ma to clarify her own thinking and begin to see where her new knowledge could be incorporated into her work she needed a safe, neutral environment with someone who knows both the Chinese context and current research and teaching developments and that is what Jasmine provides in these sessions.

Ma Xiaobo also began studies towards an MSc in Inclusion and Special Educational Needs at Queen Margaret University, Edinburgh, in September 2023. This course is being fully-funded by the SCCG. Ms Ma has successfully completed the first and second modules of this online course. She is now studying Module 3 and is finding a rhythm to balancing her family, work and studies. She provides regular updates and we have made some of these available on our website.

AGM and Plenary, March 2023

We were delighted to have a specially-recorded video interview with one of our Chinese partners. Father Joseph Zhang has a ministry with The Caritas Social Services Centre (CSSC) in Shenyang, which is the social wing of Liaoning Diocese. For many years, the CSSC has offered support to people living with HIV/AIDS. Father Zhang is also developing support for elderly people, especially the isolated elderly, in the community. He sees this as a priority for churches and NGOs in the light of China's ageing society.

The AGM and Plenary also provided an opportunity for supporters to hear an update about other projects the SCCG is involved in with our partners in Shenyang, Shanghai and Nanjing. These are varied and range from projects supporting children with additional educational support needs, to projects which help train medical staff involved in palliative and end of life care.

The first in-person meeting of ENAP since 2019 took place in Helsinki from 31 May – 1 June, hosted by FELM, the Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Mission. ENAP was established in Hamburg in 1987 to enable cooperation and collaboration between European churches and agencies supporting the Amity Foundation's work in China.

Six senior Amity staff members travelled to Helsinki as part of a wider visit to Europe following the relaxation of Covid-related travel restrictions by China earlier in the Spring. Those participating from China were Mr Qiu Zhonghui, Chair of the Board; Ms Ling Chunxiang, General Secretary; Ms She Hongyu, Associate General Secretary; Mr Anthony Tong Kai Hong of the Amity Hong Kong office; Ms Qian Xiaofeng who is Senior Regional Development Director based in Beijing; and Rev Kou Weiwei, Amity's research supervisor. There were representatives of Amity partners from Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, Finland and the UK. The SCCG was represented at the meeting by our Convener, Rev Alan Miller.

This year's gathering recognised the greatly-changed circumstances not only in China but also world-wide and in Europe, and the need to consider how best to continue and strengthen mutual working relationships. Time was given to working on a new reference paper that it is hoped will form the basis for ongoing future collaboration. The meeting took as its main themes for discussion the issues of climate justice and of 'diakonia' – the experience and practice of social service among churches and agencies in Europe, and of the Amity Foundation both in China and increasingly, elsewhere in the world.

China Partner Visit to Scotland: Between 18-23 June 2023, Lu Yi, a member of The Amity Foundation's Communication and Advocacy Team, visited Scotland as part of a bigger trip to the UK, organised by the Friends of the Church in China (FCC).

The aim of the visit was to better understand how UK charities and organisations shared and communicated their aims and objectives with their supporters and a wider audience. While in Scotland she was accompanied by SCCG members to visit people working for several different charities. She met with the Chief Operating Officer of the Eric Liddell Community, the Campaigns and Advocacy Co-ordinator at Christian Aid Scotland. communications staff at the John Muir Trust, the Executive Lead for Communications and Campaigns at Alzheimer Scotland and the Community Partnership Manager of the Scottish Bible Society.

The feedback we received from Lu Yi was that the visit gave her a wide range of insights and helped her to think through some new ideas that could enhance the work of the Amity Foundation. She remains in touch with both the SCCG Advisor and our Publicity and Website Officer.

Autumn Plenary, September 2023

We had two excellent speakers at our Autumn Plenary. Firstly, Mr Norman Liddle, Community Partnership Manager with the Scottish Bible Society told us about the work of the United Bible Societies' cooperation with the Amity Printing Company in Nanjing. Then, via a Zoom link, Dr Sally Boa and Dr Gill Foster from Strathcarron Hospice joined us to talk about Project ECHO, an innovative way for specialists around the world to share information and expertise, which may suit and support some of our partners in China.

Project ECHO (Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes) is a collaborative model of medical education and care management that helps clinicians provide expert-level care to patients wherever they live. Using video- conferencing technology to train, advise, and support primary care providers, the Project increases access to specialty treatment in rural and under-served areas. The SCCG is working with Dr Sally Boa, Head of Education, Research and Practice Development at Strathcarron Hospice to facilitate using Project ECHO with a number of partners in China. This could enable them to upskill their staff without taking them off site. Staff in Shengjing Hospital Rehabilitation Unit and Amity Foundation staff in the Rengu Home for the Elderly have all expressed an interest.

Visit to China to meet with Partners in Shenyang and Nanjing

Patricia Johnston (SCCG Advisor) and Gillian McKinnon (SCCG Website and Publicity Officer) arrived in Shenyang on Sunday 12 November, where we were met by Dr Wang Yumei, the Medical Director of the Palliative Care Ward at Shengjing Hospital and a long-term partner of the SCCG. It was great to see her in person after such a long time and her hospitality throughout the visit was most appreciated.

On Monday 13 November, Dr Wang gave us a tour of a local community hospital in central Shenyang. This small, under- resourced hospital serves a neighbourhood of 89,000 people. Despite difficulties with resources, it provides a wide range of care and clinics and Dr Wang is working with staff there to help them understand better palliative and end-of-life care. The staff were hugely welcoming and clearly very committed to their work.

We then visited a small private hospital with considerably more resources. Incorporated into the hospital is a 'home' for elderly people who do not have family support or others able to provide care. This is a developing model of care in China and will need considerably more investment.

On Tuesday 14 Nov, we were very warmly welcomed to the palliative care ward in the Hua Xiang Campus of Shengjing Hospital by medical and nursing staff and a small group of volunteers. There was an excellent mutual question and answer session, with much interest in spiritual care and mental health support for both patients and staff. We later discussed possible SCCG-funded placements or visits to Scotland by some of the palliative care doctors.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings we met with two people who are, independently, keeping alive the history of the Scots missionaries who travelled to North East China in the 1800's and 1900's. One is a lecturer at a seminary in Shenyang and the other is a doctor, from a family who can trace involvement back to training under Dr Frank Garven in Moukden Medical College. The hope is to have some of the original hospital buildings preserved and a museum established in one of them. As we went round the various campuses of the hospital and saw the work that is being done in so many different fields of medicine and research, how amazed these Scottish medical missionaries would be at the way their vision has offered so much to so many in North East China.

On Thursday 16, we had a first-time visit to the Psychology Department of Shengjing Hospital following a request to speak with the Medical Director there. This was a fascinating, and wide-ranging, meeting as the Director outlined mental health challenges in Chinese society and the pressures on hospitals and staff. Focus on mental health is relatively new in China, reflecting fast-moving changes in society. The Director's request to the SCCG is specifically to do with support for staff – again, a new focus in China.

Also on Thursday we renewed contact with the Physical Rehabilitation Unit of Shengjing Hospital where we have had links for several years. They expressed an interest in resource- and expertise-sharing using Project ECHO. The aim would be for the Rehabilitation Unit to become a Project ECHO Hub which would help upskill other staff in North East China.

It was clear that both the Palliative Care Ward and the Rehabilitation Unit are under financial pressure. China has a private medical system and resources are scarce for areas of the hospital which are not bringing in enough income.

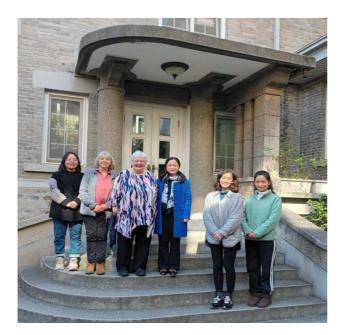

Amazingly, a chance encounter at Shenyang airport on Friday, meant we will be able to restart a project which has stalled over the last few years. This is the GP/Family Doctor programme which has yet to find traction in North East China. However, we now have a renewed live link with a doctor still wishing to take this forward which is very encouraging.

Our second week in China was based further south, in Nanjing. It focussed on project updates from The Amity Foundation, our long-standing partner and now a very influential NGO.

We first met with Ma Xiaobo who works at The Amity Children's Development Centre. She is currently leading on the pilot 'integrated kindergarten' project. We have been supporting this work by providing Ms Ma with training sessions with Jasmine Miller and sponsoring her to study online for a MSc in Inclusion and Special Educational Needs at Queen Margaret University.

On Tuesday 21, we visited the Amity Foundation offices and were delighted to meet with She Hongyu one of Amity's Associate General Secretaries and with Olivia Chen, Director of the Education and International Volunteering Department.

The main topic for discussion was a new request to have Scottish practitioners and teachers in Special Educational Needs come to Nanjing for a year's placement or secondment at the Nanjing Special Education College. This is the only college in China which focuses purely on training teachers to work with children with additional educational needs.

Our visit to the Nanjing Rainbow project on Wednesday was extremely moving and inspiring. The Nanjing Rainbow Care Centre for Critically-ill Children occupies two floors of an orphanage on the outskirts of the city. It's a really bright, airy place and specialises in caring for children who have been abandoned, primarily, because they have life-limiting illnesses although we did meet three children with Downs Syndrome. It may seem cruel that any parent would abandon their child because they have a life-limiting illness but that doesn't take into account the difficulty of many families' circumstances in China. There is a private healthcare system in China which is only affordable for some people.

The Director of Nanjing Rainbow is Linda Huang, who has a small, dedicated team of staff which includes care givers ('Care Mommas'), a social worker, a doctor and two teachers. The charity is developing a 'Family Centre' where foster parents (five are registered so far) come to spend time with some of the children.

Nanjing Rainbow was selected to benefit from the funds raised by a Photo Competition run by the United Free Church of Scotland, and the sale of the 2023 photo calendar which raised £2,342.50. Tricia was delighted to be able to pass these funds to Linda. She was extremely touched that Christians in Scotland had raised this money for them and offered her heartfelt thanks.

In January 2024, Nanjing Rainbow celebrates its 10th anniversary. Linda told us they started with six beds and now have 36 in Nanjing and 24 in Xiamen (in south east China). In addition, there are three 'end of life' beds in a Nanjing paediatric hospital. But, given that the city of Nanjing has a population greater than Scotland, that is not nearly enough.

The SCCG will now build up our relationship with the Nanjing Rainbow Centre. We hope to link them up with organisations in Scotland that may offer further insights and mutual support.

Our final full day of the visit to China, on Thursday 22 November, was dedicated entirely to The Amity' Foundation's support services for elderly people. The day was extremely full, as we visited six different sites, mostly in poorer parts of Nanjing. We were hosted by Chu Chaoyu, an Associate General Secretary of the Amity Foundation (formerly head of their Social Services Division) who we have met many times before.

Many of Amity's projects for the elderly are now part-funded by Chinese local government, a sign that services for elderly people are much higher priority than before.

Many of the projects aim to ensure that people are as physically and mentally active as possible. Amity also provides healthy and nutritious meals for elderly people, either in a local community cafe or delivered to their homes. We were shown a small community garden aimed to appeal to older people. Dementia care is also a priority.

Our last stop of the day was at the Amity Rengu Home for the Elderly. The Rengu Home was the first home the local authority in Nanjing asked Amity to take over and run (in 2012). The site is currently undergoing a major refurbishment and upgrade. Following the upgrade it is planned to provide hospice care in a specialist wing, and, over the next 10 years, the main focus will be on end-of-life care and on people living with dementia and providing support for their families. At the end of the upgrading work, the number of beds will increase from 180 to 204.

We hugely appreciated seeing all this vital work by the Amity Foundation and their hospitality in Nanjing.

Financial Review

The Trustees received grants, donations and gift aid and other income amounting to £24,772 (2022: £14,090) during the year, including modest bank interest. Expenditure of £33,865 (2022: £19,509) was incurred leaving a deficit for the year of £(9,093) (2022: £(5,419)).

Unrestricted Funds received during the year were £5,322 (2022: £2,090) and expenditure £10,690 (2022: £6,022). The unrestricted deficit for the year of £(5,368) (2022: £(3,932)) decreased unrestricted funds to £2,962 (2022: £8,330).

Restricted Funds received during the year amounted to £19,450 (2022: £12,000) and £23,175 (2022: £13,487) was spent, leaving a deficit for the year of £(3,725) (2022: (1,487)) and restricted funds balance at the year-end of £16,831 (2022: £20,556).

Reserves

Following the difficulties in travel to and from China in recent years a partnership visit was made to China in November 2023. Forward planning will now be possible and so the Trustees will set a policy on Reserves in the coming months. This past year, the Trustees continued to employ a part time project worker to develop the work of the charity. We also have the services of a self-employed publicity officer who continues to raise the profile of our work and that of our partners in China. Some of the employment costs are funded by a grant restricted for that purpose and the remainder is paid from unrestricted funds. The Trustees continue to seek regular support to extend the unrestricted funds and aim to maintain a minimum £5,000 at any time, though these have dipped below that level in the latter part of the year with unrestricted funds at 31 December 2023 of £2,962 (2022: £8,330)

Plans for future periods

We will continue to support existing projects for which we have funding, continue good communication with partners in China listening to their advice on needs that we might assist with and we will continue to seek funding for the new programmes that we are in the process of identifying and researching their viability.

The trustees declare that they have approved the trustees' report above. Signed on behalf of the charity's trustees

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent Examiner's Statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention

- 1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
  - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and
  - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations
